PRE-1945-Historical Section, 1921-1945

An US Army central historical agency emerged during the WWI mobilization and was attached to the Army War College in 1921. The AWC Historical Section existed from 1921-45 in Wash, DC. It became part of a new historical agency that evolved into the Office of the Chief of Military History (OCMH), now the US Army Center of Military History. Meanwhile the War College relocated to Carlisle Barracks in 1951. See:

PRE-1945-Two Army War Colleges, 1939-46

Two active Army War Colleges existed from 1939 until 1946, one being the school itself and the other the military reservation on which the school was located. Both the institution and the real estate were designated "Army War College." Interestingly, perhaps puzzling, is that upon the school's inactivation in 1946 (classes had only been suspended during WWII), the reservation continued to exist with the same name until redesignated as Fort McNair in 1948. See:

U.S. War Dept. General Order No. 5, dated 1939, War Department Circular No. 117, dated 1946; Dept of the Army General Order No. 2, dated 1948; & Bibliography on Ft McNair in Forts.
